

Mrs. Marion Hopson Partree, wife of George Partree, the well-known Waterbury stableman, died Saturday after a long sickness, aged fifty-three years. For over a year she has been a continual and much of the time an intense sufferer. The very best of nursing and medical advice could not save her. An affectionate mother and wife and a kind friend to all, her death will be a sad blow. She was a member of St. John's church, Waterbury, and a model of Christian virtue and patience under long suffering.

New Haven Morning Journal and Courier

New Haven, CT

Tuesday, January 5, 1892

Page 3, Column 3