

NEWS was received Friday of the death in Whitehall, N. Y., the day before of A. C. Hopson, a well-known citizen of that town. He was an uncle of Mrs. Dr. Daley of this village. Thirty years ago Mr. Hopson lived in Hydeville, where he was a contractor and builder, and since he moved to Whitehall he has continued in the same business. He was largely instrumental in forming St. James' Episcopal parish in Hydeville and in building the church. Two years ago he received injuries from a fall, from which he never fully recovered.

The Bennington Banner

Bennington, VT
Friday, July 22, 1892

Page 4, Column 2