

GRANVILLE.

—Surprise parties are all the rage.

—Granville can boast of its pretty girls.

—S. Edwards has moved into his new house.

—Miss Susie Organ, of Troy, is visiting friends in town.

—We saw George Bascom, of T. C. A., in town Friday.

—Hiel Hollister has returned from his visit in Cambridge.

—C. Lewis lost a valuable fur collar on the street a few evenings ago.

—Thanksgiving services were held at the Methodist and Trinity churches.

—Some miscreants broke nearly all the glass in the windows of James Keevan's new house.

—Rev. Mr. Eaton, presiding elder, delivered an elegant discourse at the Methodist church, Sunday morning.

—Johnnie Warren, of New York, and Steven Thorn, of Rutland, spent Thanksgiving with their parents in town.

—Some of R. C. Betts' friends met at his residence Thursday evening and presented him with an elegant gold watch and chain.

—There are quite a number sick in town; among others are Mrs. W. H. Hollister, Miss Maggie Hughes, Elias Parry, Miss Sarah Cook, Mrs. Geo. Tobey, John W. Heath and M. S. Foster.

The Poultney Journal

Poultney, VT

Friday, December 7, 1883