

DEATHS.

FORMER BASEBALL PLAYER DIES AT INSANE ASYLUM:

W. B. Goodenough, a former baseball player, died at the city insane asylum Tuesday night after a month's illness. His wife arrived in the city yesterday morning from Nashville, Tenn., and took charge of the body. It will be buried this afternoon at 2:30 in Calvary cemetery, the funeral services taking place at the Cullen & Kelley undertaking establishment at 2735 Cass avenue.

St. Louis Globe Democrat

St. Louis, MO

Thursday, May 25, 1905

Page 5, Column 3