

---

DEAD IN BED.

---

Albert Lombard of East Woodstock,
Found in Last Sleep by Watchers.

---

Albert Lombard, 58, a resident of East Woodstock, was found dead in his bed in that place at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning by Ethal Barrett and Louis Bates, two men who had been staying with him during the night. Mr. Lombard had been ill for some time. At 11 o'clock Monday night he complained of severe pains in the head, but after a time these seemed to pass away and he appeared to be resting more comfortably. Two hours later when the watchers entered his room they found him dead. Mr. Lombard, who was born in Fiskdale, Mass., was unmarried.

Norwich Bulletin

Norwich, CT

Wednesday, March 4, 1914

Page 5, Column 5