

DEATHS

LOMBARD, Langdon F. "Lucky"

Langdon Frothingham Lombard died peacefully at his home in Belmont on May 26, 2014. He was the husband of the late Nancy Regan Lombard. Born in Boston on September 16, 1940, he was the son of Percival Hall Lombard and Eugenia Frothingham. He leaves behind his sisters, Eugenia Lombard of Cape Cod and Natalie Lombard of Chicago, his children Catharine (Lombard) Eastman and her husband Peter Eastman of Redwood City, California, and Langdon Lombard Jr and his wife Jessica (Shaw) Lombard his grandsons Alexander and Andrew of Gardner, Massachusetts. Langdon graduated from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst in 1964 and received his Master's in English from Middlebury College at Breadloaf in 1971. He was a teacher of high school English and coached several sports. He later became a restaurant manager. His lifelong passion was classical music: he hosted a classical music program at WMUA while in college, and he co-founded the Serge Koussevitzky Legacy Foundation. A memorial service will be held for Langdon on Monday September 22 at Christ Church Cambridge, 0 Garden Street, Cambridge at 11 AM. The interment will follow at Mount Auburn Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, please send memorial donations to the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra, 295 Huntington Avenue, Suite 210, Boston, MA 02115, or to the Development Office, UMass Amherst, Memorial Hall, 134 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003-9270.
